PURE COMFORT FOR GENERATIONS

W e believe cashmere needs a new standard.

At Wollken Design, we manage cashmere production as a fully traceable, ethical and controlled process. From fibre sourcing in Mongolia to manufacturing and delivery, every step is actively managed under clear standards.

We work directly at origin, define how cashmere is collected, processed and produced, and take responsibility for the entire lifecycle. This allows our customers to work with consistency, transparency and reliability.

Our catalogue is updated every season. Products, qualities and designs are continuously refined through production experience, material development and feedback. With each edition, the collection becomes more precise and higher in quality.

This catalogue presents our current cashmere range. Produced responsibly. Managed end to end. Built to last.

Cheers!
